OREGON.

Co-operation is essential to union success. When a man is willing to accept big wages, but unwilling to pay others a living wage, he is recalcitrant to his union, himself and the principles he espouses.

We alone are responsible for these items, but there are a good many things, we want to say but—Ah, the editorial blue pencil—That's the cut of it.

Edward Hale married Ada Yoran. The names are spelled right.

Chas. Martucci, formerly of Texas, dissatisfied with the refusal of Superintendent Lloyd of the Vancouver School to allow the basketball team play on a certain date, gave the Superintendent and Supervisor Martin a beating. He was placed in jail, and may be sent to the reform school.

Doctor Olof Hanson is doing well in Seattle, in the Architectural Department of the University of Washington. His works are his monument. In the war the government suspended building operations—useless for war purposes. Doctor Hanson took a job in the Erickson shipyards, and did his bit. His election as delegate from the Seattle Division to the N. F. S. D. Convention at Atlanta shows good judgment and means a fight for the Coast. Portland in 1925, is logical place, and date for the National Conventions of 1924 and 1926.

Portland and Oregon are places where over 75 percent of the deaf own their homes, urban or rural. Does not the fact show this territory to be the place for the home?

Anthony Kautz has been employing the whole colony of idle deaf-mutes in digging out a basement under his home. The kind-hearted housewife has served lunches to the workers.

The reporter, observing the loganberry vines running wild over the fencing round the poultry yard on the Kautz place, and Mrs. Kautz thinking of the poultry, had an amusing misunderstanding. He asked "Do they produce much?" Mrs. Kautz, nodding, "four to six eggs a day."

Captain Ross Smith, in the March issue of the National Geographic Magazine, "From London to Australia by Aeroplane." "I regretted that I was quite unable to reply to their kindly expressions, as I did not hear them. The roar of the exhausts for nine consecutive flying hours had affected my ears so that I was quite deaf. After several hours my hearing returned."

Carl E. Akeley, "Hunting African Buffalo," in the Much Number of World's Work: "This hunter was an extraordinary character. He was almost stone deaf. How he dared hunt elephant or any other big game without the aid of his hearing, I have never been able to conceive, yet he did it and did it well." Akeley's feat in killing a leopard, one of the fiercest and quickest of wild game, was extraordinary.

Portland has planted six miles of roses bushes on its Sandy Boulevard, a continuation of the Columbia River Highway, and the parks are overgrown with a riot of roses. Private homes have roses indoors and outdoors, and the babies are all roses.

The Atlantic Pacific Highways and Electric Exposition in Portland, in 1925, will celebrate the completion in 1924 of three transcontinental highways representing 10,000 miles, and will form the centennial observance of the discovery of the Electromagnet by Sturgeon, and the centennial founding of the city of Vancouver, Washington. The visitors may number more than 7,000,000 from all over the world.

The resources behind the project total $300,000,000. Pledges of aid to the Exposition has come from State Legislatures and cities all over the country.

Ten miles of new paving, beginning at the concrete bridge over Hood River, are now under construction. "After a few hundred feet of a widened country road up the east side of Hood River Canyon, the highway by a series of four loops passes to a higher elevation on the gorge of the Columbia. The direct distance is less than 1000 feet, but a car must travel more than 2000 feet by graceful or sharp curves.

A mile east of Hood River the new grade passes into a series of narrow ravines and lessers canyons. For three quarters of a mile the tourist may travel in the quietness of these woods, where already the warmth of spring sunshine has brought to blossom expanses of rock lilies and where later the landscape will be brightened by the blooms of dogtooth violets. Then suddenly, if the motorist be heading east, he bursts around a curve and again overlooks the wide Columbia and the neat plots of truck garden on the Washington bank opposite. The grade designated for paving just east of the Hood River county line, penetrates a rocky promontory by two tunnels, one of them with open windows somewhat similar to the five lookouts at Mitchell Point tunnel. The two tunnels however are more than 300 feet above the railroad tracks, whereas the Mitchell Point tunnel is less than 100 feet above the river."

The Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, the Portlane Chamber of Commerce, the Atlantic Pacific Highways and Hydroelectric Exposition, the State Tourist Bureau and the great transcontinental railway systems have pledged their support and co-operation towards securing the conventions of the National and surrounding State Associations to meet in Portland in 1925.

The Meier and Franks deaf girls have had a group photo made for publication in an eastern monthly publication.

Lewis O. Christenson has been working over time seven days a week in his printing office in Room 226, Yale Building, Seattle, Wash. He is the life saver for the hungry moneyless deaf-mute, for he gives them work or meals when needed.

A. W. Wright has sold his chicken ranch outside of Seattle, moved out on East Madison Street in Seattle, and bought a partnership in a movie theatre with Mr. Klawitter.

Mrs. Eunice Reeves Lawrence has been sick with an affection in the throat and may have an operation.

Born, to Frank F. and Lena Flickinger Wall, of Monroe, Wash., a daughter, on Dec 31st, 1920. The Walls may sell their ranch just outside of Monroe and move East.

Homer Albright and family are near Fresno, Cal. Address R. "A," Box 349, in care of B. M. Oyer.

The Seattle deaf will have services at St. Mark's Episcopal Church twice a month. Rev. Geo. W. Gaertner of the Lutheran Church has ministered faithfully to this field for years.

Leonard Rasmussen is learning the bitter lesson that city life is not all gold that glitters. Unemployment in Seattle hits him and others pretty hard in pocket and stomach. The farm in Minnesota looks the best bet. It is a safe refuge for the hunger jobless L. R.

Hugo Holcombe is still working in the navy yard at Bremerton, Wash. The Seattle Frats and the P. S. A. D. may divvy in renting a meeting place. Co-operation is bound to succeed. C. K. McConnell will give the use of his billiard and pool tables, long in disuse in the basement of his house.

The Seattle Frat Five has won a game in the city basketball league. It is an event when other teams are all stars long in practice and experience. They won newspaper praise for clean playing.

William West, of Seattle, has joined his father Jesse West in Yukon Territory. Their machine shop is working over time on boilers and placer mining dredges.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harris have moved back to Wenatchee, Wash., from Seattle, where they have been wintering.

Mr. Bixler, the photographer, who has been working in a musical band instrument factory in South Bend, Ind., has been visiting in Wenatchee, Vancouver and Seattle, Wash.

Holges Jensen, of Olympia, Washington, who worked in the Goodyear factory at Akron, Ohio, say she is glad to be back in God's country, which means the Pacific Coast.

W. S. Root has moved his printing office from Fourth Avenue, between Union and University Streets, to 408-410 Seneca Street, opposite Northern Life building, in Seattle.

Ralph Pickett and Fred Patrick were in Seattle some time. Both returned to Portland, Oregon, but Pat may go to Montana or Alaska. Either is equally cold in winter and either is as hot in summer, with the difference that the Alaska coast has the average mild Pacific coast climate. Homestead possibilities in Alaska are alluring.

George Weinstein, the Jew pugilist, was arrested again at Topeka, Kansas, this time for stealing a watch. If the charge of forgery and grand larceny are proven, he may go to the pen. He has been billed for a fifteen round fight, on April 15th, in Kansas City, Mo.

D. C. Brown, the Illinois Kid in Portland, is seventy-nine years old.

Ed. Spieler, perusing the classic literature sent out gratis by a Patent Medicine Company, now teaches us all truthful accurate history. The first President of the United States, was not the Father of His Country, George Washington, but John Hanson, one of the presidents of the Continental Congress. We can not locate the authority for saying his title was President of the United States. Can you?

Jesse Craven, manager of a Cannery at Tillamook, and Stonewall Harris, were calling on relatives and friends in Portland, and hunting land.

Portland Frats have in William Seaman, Junior, one of the shortest deaf-mutes in the United States. If you are five feet or over, you have to look to find him.

Jake Garberson is still expounding science to us all. Nothing is improbable or impossible in newspaper science. Scientists think gold is produced from the sheen of fish scales or from the reflection of sunrise or sunset or of the clouds. If you want to improve your mind, read the newspaper's science pages. You will find entertainment and food for thought!

The deaf-mutes who worked for Anthony Kautz were paid $3 a day and given their supper. It was a life saver for them. The day laborers clearing away the dirt piled on the street loafed, though they were paid the going wages of $5 for eight hours.

Business is booming and employment is becoming plenty. But don't come unless you have money to carry you. When conditions are right, we will advise you.

The State School for Deaf at Salem has received needed funds for the purchase of additional and up-to-date equipment for the shops and for a polytechnic building, the floor for a gymnasium and the ground floor for the shops.

It is time to call a halt to the sectional spirit which keeps the National Association of the Deaf holding their conventions East of the Pacific or Rocky regions. The Atlantic-Pacific Highways and Hydroelectric Exposition at Portland in 1925, offers all a chance to visit the wonders of the west on the trip, take in the fair and attend the conventions of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf and the National Association of the Deaf, without incurring the expense of making each separately. The reduced transportation possible, with ample stop-over privileges, lessens the expense to all. By starting to save now for the purpose, the cost will not be felt in 1925, four years hence, the grand Division headquarters will not have to overdraw its convention expense fund, and the attendance of the Nads will be larger. The Frat headquarters can pledge one-third, the local divisions one-third, and the delegates one-third. The scenic wonders in the intermountain and Pacific regions, from Mexico into the North Pole, are added attractions on the trip away from home and returning, or for extra trips. Automobile travel will be easy in 1925, with the completion of three transcontinental trunk highways and numerous local branches, all hard surfaced, and numerous parking and camping sites. Aviation in 1925 will be as common in great air lanes crossing the continent in all directions at different heights. Who knows but your astral body may travel while your physical body is at home?

Roses here grow and bloom the year round. Rare is the time in winter, when you can not find some hardy rose or flower outdoors. But in 1925 roses will be as common as dandelions or daisies, and ante weed laws will be invoked against them.

Willie Seaman Junior told his hostess she had to cook a supper for him. But he made up for it by providing the ice cream. This reporter took supper with a couple on the Peninsula and they bought the ice-cream.

Claude Wood, the peddler, able bodied, suave, of a cleansing preparation has shaken Seattle off and is in Portland with his wife. Being a Frat, why is he allowed to peddle? He claims to make $18 a day. A deaf-mute peddler handling such things does not depend on the merits of the articles to make a sale, but makes use of his deafness (alleged infirmity) as a means to excite sympathy in the customer. Peddling prices are higher than department store prices, goods are often worse, and the best argument to clinch a sale is to use the loss of hearing, the alleged inability to earn money at labor to support a wife and family, etc. I know. I have worked with deaf-mute peddlers of soap. I never could sell anything by praising or emphasizing the merits of the article. My pals, on the other hand, by showing a card on which they wrote in deaf-mute language their loss of hearing, inability to find steady employment, difficulty in supporting a wife and family, and a request for patronage, after cleared five dollars in a day of five hours or more, while the best I ever did (I was clothed in rags one time) was 70 cents in two days.

Birdeen Rankin, after years of service, about five months (Is this an Irish bull?) has left Meier & Franks. Are the wedding bells going to peal, we all want to know? J. B. George, of Pennsylvania, has taken this JOURNAL for twenty-eight years to April next. Who beats this record? He is making money in the Hotel Rambo barber shop. His three children are a credit to him and his wife.

Oscar Sanders writes a classmate: "What the Duce made Duce marry?" The Duce he did and the Duce he did not. It was a Duce of a Duce affair all right.

Ora Duce claims to have been married and divorced twice. He must be an impostor benedict or an impostor bachelor.

Philip and John Bridges (?) of Cleveland, Ohio, work in a logging camp at Blind Slough, near Astoria. Thomas Graham, who finished school in Wisconsin in 1868, is still youthful in mind if not in body.

Emma Sovereign Graham, who graduated from the Iowa School after the first fire, which destroyed the school, is still young and keen.

Jack Bertram has bought a family carryall. It is a Ford sedan.

The committee working for the establishment of a State Association of the in Oregon, held its first meeting at the home of John O. Reichle, 900 East Sixth Street, North Portland, Oregon.

Superintendent Tillinghast has given it an impetus by publishing in the last number of the outlook his endorsement and approval, and request to all to forward their names and addresses to Mr. Reichle. Bird Lee Craven was chosen permanent chairman and John O. Reichle secretary-treasurer. Drafts for a constitution and by-laws will be presented at a later meeting. The place may be the State School for the Deaf, if the Board of Control approves, or Portland, and the time may be the date of the Vancouver meeting of the Washington State Association of the Deaf, or the last week of the school year of the Salem School.

ANTON SCHROEDER, Treasurer De l'Epee Memorial Statue Fund.

2172 Carroll Avenue, St. Paul, Minn.

March 15, 1921.

The above statement just issued by the Treasurer shows the present financial of the De l'Epee Fund and indicates a steady though slow growth and in no wise a disappointing exhibition in this era of readjustment. The Committee is more resolved to see it through than ever, now that President Cloud of the National Association of the Deaf had written to a leading publication for the deaf the following statement: "The De l'Epee Memorial Statue Fund should be loyally and royally encouraged with a never-ending stream of generous donations to the fund. Memorials are the outward visible signs of heartfelt gratitude for benefits conferred. It should be a pleasure and a privilege of every one to help."

Plans are now being formulated for a more rapid increase of the Fund with the aid of the inventive genius of Mr. Schroeder, famous as an inventor, and have my heartiest cooperation. The main idea is that every home of the deaf is to be decorated, both ornamentally as an article of great beauty as well as a household necessity. It will thus ever remind us of the untold good, which can never be measured in dollars, as given to us by that good and noble teacher and benefactor born 209 years ago. His image must be graven in bronze, which can endure through ages and for generations yet unborn to gaze upon his features and to feel a thrill of thankfulness for what he had done for us under such distressing circumstances as obtained two centuries ago. Contributions are earnestly solicited, no matter how small, and sent to either to the Treasurer or to the undersigned.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION CONVENTION.

TO MEET IN ATLANTA, GA., IN 1923.

For the first time in the history of the National Association of the Deaf, through a period of over forty years, the claims of the Sunny South have been recognized. The triennial convention has been awarded to Georgia, and in the summer of 1923 will be held in the City of Atlanta.

The invitation to meet in that progressive city came unsolicited, and it will be gratifying to the three thousand members of the National Association that the Executive Committee has unanimously accepted.

There is a large field to be cultivated between the Mason and Dixon line, and without doubt there will be big accessions to the roster of the Association. As the Association is national in name as well in aspirations, this convention in the South will offer a campaign of education among the deaf and hearing alike, that will surely redound to the welfare of the deaf and give a new impetus to the progressive work of the Association.

At sunset recently the transport Somme slipped into port bearing a precious cargo of hero dead—1,609 men, who fell in action with the Germans. The body of these 1,609 Americans, who died fighting in France, ranged row after row in coffins draped with the Stars and Stripes, were paid military honors at the Army Transport Service pier, in Hoboken. The brief military service for the dead was carried through with Major General O'Ryan and his full staff in attendance, and prayers were offered by clergymen of all faiths. Each of the bodies—292 of them were New York men—was later sent to the home of relatives under escort of a guard of honor. Some Gold Star mothers gathered around the draped caskets after the ceremony. The following touching poem by Granland Rice, is taken from the New York Tribune of Sunday, March 27th:

THE SOMME COMES IN

"Some day," they said, "when war is done
And we have wandered back;
Will we have each our share of fun
Beyond the last attack.
As we swing down the Avenue
Some day, amid the din,
We'll take our place back home with you"
And now the Somme is in.

Through Molain's dawn they faced the glow
Of flame and flanking fire;
By swamp and knob to Le Cateau
They cut the bloody wire.
For out beyond each battered height,
Well won the cost to win,
They dreamed of home beyond the fight—
And now the Somme comes in.

Beyond each trench they saw once more
The Roaring Forties flare;
They heard above the great guns' roar
The rush of Cateley Square.
To dreams that come with bated breath
On through the bloody mud,
On through the rain-drenched nights of death
The Old Town whispered "Home."

From La Roux Farm they took the ridge
That held the last great wall;
Their bodies formed the only bridge
That crossed the Sambre Canal.
By mist-hung swamp and battered hill
The golden vision stayed
Of ancient haunts that beckoned still Beyond the barricade.

"Thank God," they whispered, "Peace is near,
Peace in the quiet sun;
Peace where the April dawns break clear
Above the last spiked gun,
Thank God, above the sullen roar
Our camp smoke, blue and thin,
Is west-blown to a warless shore"
And now the Somme comes in.

Once more Taps sounds above their dreams,
And with its ancient glow
Once more the flaming sky-line gleams,
But they will never know
Back with their love of youth and life,
Lost dreams of play and sport,
Far from the gun-swept plains of strife
Their ship has come to port.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE.

The Literary Society presented the following program on the evening of April 1st:

READING—"Daniel and the Devil," James N. Orman, '23.

DEBATE—"Resolved, That the Japanese should be allowed to continue immigrating to the United States." Affirmative, Edwin Benedict, '24, Harry Danofsky, P. C. Negative, John Boatwright, '24, John Penn, P. C.

DIALOGUE—"Old Grump," Anson K. Mills, '23, and Stanley Ferguson.

DECLAMATION—"Down by the Sally Gardens," Lewis C. LaFountain.

CRITIC'S REPORT—Edward Harmon, '21.

Mr. Orman told an interesting story in a clear, attractive manner. The story, written by Eugene Field, related how Daniel, a business man, got the better end of a bargain with the devil, in which the stake was his own soul. The debate was warmly waged. Mr. Benedict, representing the affirmative side, was from California, so was able to speak first-hand observation. But Mr. Boatwright presented a more logical argument. The negative side won. The dialogue was characterized by more action than is usually allowed, but it was the best one so far. Mr. LaFountain recited his poem well.

Immediately after the Literary Society's program the stage was given one to the Co-eds. By an agreement made at the basketball-meet between the Buffs and Blues, the loser was to give a play to the benefit of the Buffs. So they appeared upon the stage after the "Lit" to give it. When the curtains parted the audience saw a group of variously clad actors forming a circle. The circle opened and when they had formed a straight line everybody read "April Fool" on a large banner. Both the young men and the "Buff" Co-eds had to make the best of it by taking the joke good-naturedly.

The Y. M. C. A. held a public meeting on Sunday afternoon, April 3d, in Chapel Hall. The new president, Mr. Lauritsen, '22, was inaugurated. An outside speaker, Mr. Thomas Sherman, Government lawyer for the Department of Forestry, had recruited for the occasion. His topic was "The Mystery and Message of Springtime."

The Annual Indoor Meet of the Co-eds took place April 1st, in the Fowler Hall Gymnasium. The judges were outsiders. The first year girls won, with the seniors trailing ten points behind. Miss Emma Sandberg, P. C., easily came off with the individual honors, amassing no less than twenty-seven points. Below is the result in detail.

Indian Club Drill—1st, E. Moss; 2d, M. Dobson; 3d, E. Sandberg.

Wand Drill—1st, F. Lewis; 2d, S. Leclerc; 3d, S. Boatwright.

Swedish Exercises—Sandberg, Bodden, Earsley.

Rope Climbing (for speed)—Sandberg, Ackermann, S. Boatwright.

Jumping (for height)—H. Moss, E. Moss, S. Boatwright.

Boom (for form)—Sandberg, Edwards, Bumann.

Horse (for form)—Sandberg, F. Lewis, S. Boatwright.

Parallel Bars (for form)—Edwards, Sandberg, Toner.

Window Ladder (for form)—Earsley, F. Lewis, Edwards.

Relay Race (between classes)—Seniors, F. Lewis, E. Moss, S. Boatwright, I. Toner.

Order of Relay Race—1st, Seniors and Juniors. Won by Seniors. Freshmen and Preps. Won by Preps. Preps and Sophmores. Won by Preps. Seniors and Sophmores. Won by Seniors.

Having most points—1st place, Emma Sandberg, P. C.; 2d place, Florence Lewis, '31; 3d place, W. Edwards, '24.

Class Points—Preps, 37; Seniors, 25; Freshmen, 9; Juniors, 6; Sophmores, 5.

Meta Hausmann, '22, was forced to drop her work here on account of death in her family. She left for her home in Wisconsin, March 30th. We hope she will be able to return before long.

Fred Connor, '23, one of the real assets on the relay team, strained a tendon while doing practice work last week and was laid up. Present indications are that he will not be counted upon in the University of Pennsylvania Meet.

University of Maryland, 15 Gallaudet, 3

Gallaudet suffered another reverse when on Saturday, April 3d, the Maryland University nine walked off with a 15 to 3 victory. Lahm pitched throughout for Gallaudet. He did good work, but the lack of consistently good support from the rest of the team, especially the outfielders, told heavily against Gallaudet. Gallaudet has not won a single game so far, and it is difficult to be optimistic. Unless the team is sent through some real hard training, and improves perceptibly, it is not easy to say that she will stand up against the teams she is yet to meet.

FANWOOD.

We are sorry that Cadet Captain Louis Casenelli is in St. Luke's Hospital now, to undergo an operation for hernia. He was operated on last year in the same month and on the same date, March 29, 1920.

We are delighted to see Cadet Lieut. John Spellman with us again. He was discharged from the St. Luke's Hospital two weeks ago. Cadet First Sergeant T. Whalen, who was the captain of the F. A. A. basketball team, E. Mulfeld, the miracle guard, and Cadet Sergeant Benny Shafrenak, the youngest player, all regret that the basketball season has passed away. Cadet Captain E. Malloy and Cadet Color Sergeant M. Czech are especially regretful. M. Czech was sorry to learn that the Lexington Athletic Association Five claimed the championship game. He was sorry that he did not play, on account of his home being far away.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Klein prepared a surprise for their son, Cadet Adjutant Charles Klein, on Saturday, March 19th, in the form of an elaborate birthday party, which was held at their home. The affair was a success in every manner, and was attended by several cadet officers and cadets. Dancing and games enlivened the evening and was interrupted only for a hearty repast.

Cadet Corporal Alfred Ederheimer and Cadet Louis Cohen went to the Rivoli theatre and while there they met Alfred's friend, Mr. Frederick Stahlberg, the conductor of the Rivoli orchestra. After the show they were entertained by the members of the orchestra in their private room.

We were honored last Saturday afternoon with a call from Laurens W. Walker, B. A., Principal of the South Carolina School.

The time of Mr. Walker's call was unfortunate, because the schools were closed and all activities suspended for the day; also, his friends here, with whom he is acquainted, were not around. We trust on the occasion of his next visitation he will have better luck.

On April 4th, Mr. William Rhinelandt Stewart, President of the State Board of Charities, and Mr. H. Poster, Superintendent of the Division of Dependent Children, in company with the Principal, made a thorough inspection of the entire Institution.

The Principal is again in Albany, endeavoring to bring to a satisfactory conclusion the laws pertaining to the welfare of the deaf which were formulated at the beginning of the legislative session.

Last Saturday the baseball game between Fordham club team and Fanwood nine was cancelled, on account of the chilly weather.

The Fifth Oral Class entertained with a well-rendered play, under the direction of Miss K. Currier, the members of the Fanwood Literary Association last Saturday night.

The program was:—

READING—"Pee-Wit," by Arne Olson.

READING—"The Boy and the Cow's Tail," by Frank Reitz.

READING—"The Magic Ring," by Carmella Palazzotta.

READING—"The Real American," by Kaple Greenberg.

READING—"The Frog Prince," by Avis Allen.

READING—"Thomas Edison," by Henry O'Reilly.

READING—"A Brave Boy," by Andrew Baka.

READING—"Christopher Columbus," by LeRoy Sloat.

To our surprise they did very well in the readings and the play. Votes of thanks were given to the entertainers.

At the Sunday morning service, Dr. Fox discoursed upon the text of "Mind and Instinct." In the afternoon Mr. C. Smith gave an excellent sermon.

Colonel Gardner reviewed the battalion Sunday afternoon. As usual a large crowd of people were lined up at the fence. The parade and exercises were carried on until recall was sounded.

Mr. D. A. Costello, of Rome N. Y., Mr. Uriah B. Shockley, of Frederick, Maryland, and Mr. W. L. Walker, of Cedar Spring, South Carolina, had the pleasure of inspecting this school last week.

Mr. F. A. De Peyster, the Secretary of the Board of Directors, paid a visit on the 22d of March. Mrs. J. R. Townsend, chairman of the Ladies' Committee, was a visitor on March 24th.

CHICAGO.

If you don't agree with me, and I don't agree with you,
Let us air our views together in a verbal barbeque:
For the human race advances thru discussing this and that—
What affects the deaf's of interest to a Nad and to a Prat.

Uncle Sam's postal service is a wonderful thing. Before the JOURNAL reached Chicago I had received two letters from little old New York touching on the contents of the Chicago column. Proving that even the big personages of the arrogant metropolis read the news from this little backwoods logging-camp. They don't agree with everything—but they read it, and that's the main point.

The first is from Alexander L. Pach, favorite photographer of the late Theodore Roosevelt. Pach calls attention to the misuse of the word "nee." "Nee Cornelia Goodchild" is a schoolboy error, he points out. "'Nee' means born; she was born Goodchild, and was named Cornelia afterwards, therefore don't use the first name after the 'nee,'" Pach writes.

Did you know that? Neither did I. We live and learn. Pach's kindly criticism is thankfully received, and given herewith for other budding young authors to absorb—that they may avoid making such an absurd spectacle of themselves as I did.

The other comment, written on the letterhead of the De l'Epee Memorial Statue Committee, follows:

DEAR MR. MEAGHER: I have read in the Chicago column of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL in its current issue over your name a foolish and flippant rally at "senseless shafts of stone or metal." You referred in particular to the proposed replica of the Gallaudet monument on the grounds of the Hartford school, and similar movements in general.

Speaking for myself, the De l'Epee Statue Fund Committee is an authorized organization approved and created by the National Association of the Deaf in session at Cleveland to collect funds for the erection of a statue in America.

Therefore any member of the above Association, who employs obstructive methods against such movements approved and authorized, would render himself open to charges of disloyalty.

Unless you retract your statement casting a slur on our important movements with the same amount of publicity and then make an apology for it, I will file a complaint with the President.

Yours truly,
SAM FRANKENHEIM,
Chairman.

This De l'Epee Statue Committee has shown more "pep," more results, than nearly all of the Endowment Fund Committees of the N. A. D. put together. In writing above, Chairman Frankenheim is only doing his duty as chairman to protect and foster the movement of which he is head.

But retract and apologize? Fat chance; corrupt possibility!

Just because an organization has by majority vote approved some movement, it does not necessarily follow that every member must agree with the beneficent wisdom of all the details—especially after a lapse of eight years—and join in with a hurrah. Neither does it follow that any member must keep his mouth shut if he does not approve. Civilization advances through interchange of ideas and opinions. This country guarantees free speech. The United States is ruled by the Constitution, but that does not prevent us from criticizing the Constitution. If it did, most of us would now be in jail—especially since the prohibition amendment.

If Gallaudet, and De l'Epee, and Sophia Fowler, and Clerc, and all the other old benefactors could speak from the grave, they would be the first to protest against this mania for erecting "senseless shafts of stone or metal" in their memory, when there are so many USEFUL means of memorializing. Homes for the aged; college scholarships; clubhouses like the S. A. C. and the Thompson Memorial; and (most important of all) the Endowment Fund of the N. A. D.; are tangible and useful. Ten deaf folks daily bless the memory of Charles Thompson for one who remembers Gallaudet from his monument.

I remember that within a year or two of the start of the De l'Epee Moanment fund, there was a strong undercurrent of opinion among the rank and file of Nads, to have the memorial take the form of something USEFUL. The committee conferred with the men who started the movement, and with certain high church dignitaries, I understand, finally deciding that under the original wording and intent of the proposition, they were morally obliged to erect a duplicate of the De l'Epee monument, now in France. That settled it. The movement seems far, far too advanced now, to effect a change under the circumstances, and the committee seems certain of the success of its plans. Words of mine can not prevent ultimate success; but right here and now is the time to so crystallize public sentiment against the absurdity of obsolete cenotaphs that next time some well-meaning but misguided enthusiast rises in meeting and proposes sadling the poor old pack-horse of the N. A. D. with additional monument projects the balloting will be a landslide against it.

No more monuments!!!!

Something useful—or nothing hereafter.

Rev. G. F. Flick, states "The Churchman" recently, related how the schools of New York were canvassed to succor the starving Chinese, meeting about the most generous response of all in a day school for the deaf, and gave favorable editorial comment on the willingness of the silent kiddies—who have relatively little pleasure in life—to undergo deprivation to a far greater extent than their more fortunate fellows with intact faculties.

Raster morning saw the accustomed outpouring of finery: All Angels' was crowded, 51 taking communion. Mrs. Morton Henry sang the solo. In the afternoon the Methodist Episcopal chapel was packed. W. Zollinger and Mrs. C. Ritchie sang. The old Brashars and Mrs. Lara Brashar were admitted on probation, and Mrs. Ritchie received into full membership.

The Easter attendance at the Catholic church broke all records. Father Mahan has improved greatly in his sign-delivery, and is exceedingly popular with his flock. The Father is a very busy man these days, being dean of a university as well as shepherd of Chicago's silent Catholics.

James M. Cannon, a keen-minded, one-armed orator, who for several years owned and operated a multi-graphing shop in the Loop, employing several girls, now holds a position in the House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., as multigrapher. Young Cannon is the grandson of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, and the nephew of Senator W. B. McKinley of Illinois, but acutely dislikes any reference to his famous progenitors; desiring to succeed and be known on his own merits rather than bask under the mantle of his illustrious relatives. Cannon is supposed to be the first deaf man ever employed in the Capitol building.

The papers state Miss Helen Keller, who played here in vaudeville last week, just before her departure for St. Louis, invited 500 deaf school children to see her film at the Playhouse Theatre the following week. Superintendent of Schools Mortenson accepted the invitation, saying "the picture depicting the life of Helen Keller, who despite the fact she was deaf, dumb and blind, applied herself and became famous, will have a beneficial effect on these children, otherwise handicapped." "The Chicago Journal" says:—

"Mark Twain said Helen Keller was greater than Napoleon. Deaf, dumb and blind, her mind mastered more than Napoleon conquered with his armies. Helen Keller's victory is depicted in a great motion picture called Deliverance, which is being shown at the Playhouse on Michigan Avenue. Every boy and girl who can hear, speak and see, would profit by seeing this picture."

The Catholic contingent, under Charles Loughran, netted $109 from a spider-web party. The week following, young Loughran was called to the death-bed of his father in Davenport, Iowa.

Wary of paying the income tax of his old landlord, the Rev. P. J. Hasenstab signed the Declaration of landlord-independence, and bought a handsome nine-room house at 54th and Ellis Avenue.

Salesmen at the Coliseum state innumerable silent have attended the "Own Your Home" exposition. Draw your own conclusions.

Mrs. W. J. O'Neil spent several days here as guest of Mrs. Linda Brimble, being en route home to Milwaukee from six months in California.

Auld acquaintances of Mrs. William Hoffman (formerly Grace Knight) hear she is doing well in Terra Bella, Cal., and has quite a large family. Married less than two years, and has a large family? Even so: the large family consists of a cat, a dog, a few chickens, and a goat which furnishes milk for the family.

Mrs. Howatt has been ill with pleurisy.

Mrs. Franklin Martin, who has been in Waterloo ever since being called there to attend the funeral of an aunt in January, will be home shortly.

Rev. P. J. Hasenstab recently baptized the infant child of Hiller, at the Hiller home—a girl they adopted when one day old.

Miss Cora Jacobs and Mrs. J. Gibney managed a surprise birthday party March 19, at the residence of Mrs. Rutherford, in joint honor of Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. C. Sharpnack and James Gibney. Each honored guest received a substantial gift, besides a "lucky penny."

Mrs. Rutherford and children start April 9th for a two-week visit with her parents in Wichita, Kansas.

Mrs. W. Belford is back from a two-week visit in Indianapolis.

Unable to secure employment here, Frank Thayer has temporarily turned farmer again, and is tilling the fertile fields some thirty-five miles away.

Mrs. Ernest Swangren is visiting relatives in Rockford, preparatory to joining her husband in Peoria.

March 26th two score silent surprised Mrs. Emery Horn with a birthday party at the Horn home, 4020 Kenmore Avenue.

Mrs. J. Watson spent Easter time in Milwaukee with her latest grandson. As Frank Pleasant pleasantly says: "Chicago's young ladies get the grandmother habit darned young nowadays."

Mrs. C. Sharpnack spent a weekend with Mrs. Sarah Allen, Aurora, who was baptized by Rev. Rutherford at that time.

Mrs. E. Hunter and Miss Cora Jacoba headed a bevy of damsels surprising the former's father, Edwin Brashar, on his 83d birthday, March 29. Edwin, the oldest Illinois boy here, left school at an early age and with his parents crossed the plains in an immigrant wagon, meeting Indians repeatedly on the way.

The Draves, of LaPorte, Ind., spent a two-day honeymoon here, dropping in at the Pas-a-Pas March 31st. Two days were all Draves' employer would grant, so the young couple missed several social functions.

March 31st, Mrs. Hanna engineered a farewell surprise party for Mrs. D. R. McDonald, who left Sunday to join her husband out in the wilds of Idaho, where he has a much better job than he ever held here in civilization. She treated the sixty guests to ice cream, while her committee brought cake. Mrs. McDonald's departure is deeply regretted by her hosts of friends.

Those interested in the proposed home for the aged will be interested to know that Mrs. Gus Hyman is now on the Board of Directors. Milton Hart, brother of the late lamented Harry, still serves on the board. Mrs. George Dougherty is Board president, succeeding Chas. Gillett, ex-superintendent of the State School.

A good home-cooked supper, 50 cents—and well worth it—followed by six to seven reels of good movies, 10 cents, then plenty of "quack, quack, with old knows," (translate that into signs!) Such is the weekly Wednesday evening program at All Angels' Parish House, 6122 Indiana Avenue. Every body welcome—except peddlers of a-b-c cards. From the time the sewing circle starts at three in the afternoon, until the last pool ball is pocketed late at night, there is always something doing there Wednesdays.

March 30th, the movies were followed by a card party, with six tables playing "500" and three playing whist for prizes.

Coming events: Whist party, Pas, April 9th; Gallaudet College alumni banquet at All Angels, 7 o'clock April 12 (for college people and their families only); Pas ball and magicians entertainment April 16th (see ad, on back page of this paper); Mrs. Meagher's reading, Pas, April 23d.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

DEAF-MUTES' UNION LEAGUE.

The Committee on the picnic to be held July 9th, have arranged for a fine program. Suitable prizes, probably medals, will be awarded to contestants in the games, and no entrance fee will be required, provided those desiring to take part send in their entries to the chairman, on or before June 25th—the earlier the better.

Several members of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League have not shown up at the rooms for some time, owing to sickness, among whom may be mentioned, Mr. Ed. Leff, Nathan Dobsavage, Henry W. Heister and Abe Hynes. Some of the members have been idle on account of the unsettled state of business, but now say that conditions have improved.

Julius Seandel's place of business now is in the Puck building, which recently his firm, the Philips Van Brunt Company, occupied. This company has long running contracts, and Julius has been obliged to do considerable overtime work.

The Communal Press, is bristling with work, and the several deaf workers are consequently happy.

Moses Rosenberg, who conducts the Rialto Printing Press, is working overtime, which indicates that he is making good. Arthur Taber, as a soliciting agent for this firm, we understand is a success.

Samuel Frankenstein also reports good business—in fact, he says he has never done such good business as the past several weeks.

Besides the Printing trade, the majority of the members of Deaf-Mutes' Union League are connected in the clothing business. On account of over production many have been idle, but we understand that business in this line is picking up, and many have returned to work.

Philip Basel with his parents expects to go abroad in June to be gone till next Fall.

Henry C. Kohlman on the 1st of April retired from active work, where he had been employed in the house that his father established sixty years ago. He is now a man of leisure.

XAVIER ALLIED NOTES

Absence of the copyrighted and cheery smile of Rev. Father Dalton, S. J., was felt at Xavier Epiphany Society's April meeting. A successful operation for the elimination of his tonsils recently undergone at St. Vincent's Hospital placed Father Dalton in the necessarily recuperative class.

Attendance was good, and Rev. Father Stork, S. J., made all happy by offering Benediction. Jere V. Fives and Thomas Higgins acted as servers.

Incidentally the X. E. S. officials disposed of a handful of business. Some interesting items of concern to the members were disposed of, not the least a vote favorable to a plunge into theatricals after the coming Mission, which begins on April 24th. The following committee appointed to make the preliminary move: Messrs. Cosgrove, Fives, J. O'Donnell, Matty Higgins, Loneragan, J. F. O'Brien, Misses Austria, Molloy, Julian, McCoy, Lamberson, Lillis. The committee have option on the use of the pretty College Theatre, with date and nature of the play to be settled at an early meeting.

As a reminder that though absent their pastor was not forgotten, a little Easter egg was hatched while the business was under way, and awaits Father Dalton's return.

The Easter Social of the Xavier De l'Epee Society at "Casey" Institute Brooklyn, was all to the credit of that branch of the X. E. S. A master of magic and sleight-of-hand artist kept interest alive with elation for an hour, much to the chagrin and discomfiture of a few wise guys who undertook to pose as connoisseurs of the "Black Art." The prestidigitator smiling turned the tables on them. He was commended a "marve-lous" exponent of his profession. President Fogarty added an inch to his smile. Dancing and games filled out the evening.

Miss Martin, from the Providence Oral School, was an attendant. A young lady prepossessing in personality. It was lonesome for Miss Martin in company with the Ephiphanyes she met, the majority of whom converse through the "Sign" and "Manual" code. But Miss Martin is going to learn the De l'Epee language, honor bright!

Peter and Mrs. Redington attended the meeting, with their charming little daughter, and were warmly greeted by Ephiphanyes.

On the sick list recently were Mrs. Eiche and Miss Lizzie Malloy. Both are well again.

The De l'Epee Sorosis, a group of the younger set, in which Miss Agnes Lillis, the Misses Hanlon, Kathleen McGuire, Anna Keightly, Mrs. Sheehan, Miss Austria and others are concerned, will, after a long spell of "nothing doing" make an effort to start something for the May date of the Xavier De l'Epee Society, at "Casey" Hall, Brooklyn. That much discussed old lady, Dame Ramor, has sprung a new one this time to the effect Phil and Mrs. Morin contemplate migration to the City of Churches.

"Matty" Higgins says the St. Vincents will not take the field this summer in baseball togs, though they will be reckoned with among the firsts at the various athletic meets.

H. A. D. NOTES.

Dr. Thomas F. Fox spoke on "Destiny," before a large audience last Friday evening, April 1st.

This Friday, the 8th, Mr. Max M. Lubin will discourse on the subject of "Courage."

A Dramatic Reading, entitled "Esmeralda," founded on "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," was given by Prof. Wm. G. Jones, last Sunday evening, April 3d, which was greatly enjoyed by all those present.

Please note that a Business Meeting of the H. A. D. will be held this Sunday afternoon, April 10th. On the evening of same day an attractive program of Motion Pictures will be shown. Come!

The Deaf Artists' Club held its Thirteenth Annual Dinner, at the famous Nicholas Restaurant, on Saturday evening, April 2d.

Covers were laid for twenty-two, and if all of the club's roster had been on hand there would have been an even thirty.

Following was the—

MENU
Oyster Cocktail
Celery	Olives
Vegetable Soup
Crab Meat au Gratin
Tenderloin of Beef
Broiled Lobster
Roast Chicken
Ice Cream and Cake
Cheese	Crackers
Cafe au Lait

The service and cuisine were both excellent, and a right jolly time was had by everyone present. Mr. Carl Underwood was toastmaster, and after a brief address upon the purposes of the club and its long record of success, due to the indefatigable Jacques Alexander, helped, aided and abetted by Charles W. Fetscher, he proposed toasts and called for responses from the following, all of whom acquitted themselves with credit and enthusiasm, in the following order: Mr. E. A. Hodgson, Mr. Jacques Alexander, Mr. Victor Anderson, Mr. F. B. Thompson, Mr. Victor Hariton, Mr. Axel Ljungquist, Mr. Richard Grutzmacher, Mrs. Culmer Barnes.

Those present were: Axel Ljungquist, Jacques Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Underwood, Charles Fetscher, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Culmer Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grutzmacher, Mr. Mrs. Victor Hariton, Mr. Borgstrand, Misses Margaret Westernhagen, Anna M. Klaus, Zeld Bernstein, Adrienne Foussadier, Messrs. Victor Anderson, Nesgood, Meyer, E. A. Hodgson.

It lacked but a few minutes of midnight when the happy company dispersed for their several homes.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Pearce parents of the bride, in Port Washington, L. I., on Easter Sunday, at 8 P.M., Miss Violet Pearce was married to Mr. Eli Ellis, of Walden, N. Y.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the ceremony was performed in an alcove of the parlor under a wedding bell. Rev. John H. Kent, officiating. He read the service orally and in signs simultaneously.

At precisely eight o'clock, Rev. Mr. Kent entered the room and took his place. Next came Mr. Ellis and his bestman, Mr. Richman, of Walden. Next came the bridesmaid, Miss Nora Pearce, sister of the bride. The bride then entered on the arm of her father and joined the groom beneath the wedding bell.

The bride's gown was of white silk charmeuse with the long bridal veil draped gracefully from her head crowned with the wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of Bermuda lilies and maiden hair fern. The groom was attired in the conventional black evening dress.

After the happy couple had been made one, they received the congratulations of those present, numbering about thirty.

A delicious wedding supper was served and wedding cake passed round, and while the gentlemen were enjoying Havanas on the piazza it was discovered that the newlyweds had disappeared. The New Yorkers, however, caught them on the 9:49 train and showered them with confetti.

It is not easy to remember the hearing people present, except Mr. Cox, senior, Mr. Ellis, the groom's brother, and other relatives. Among the deaf were: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. McMann, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Camman, Mrs. Henry Bettels, Mrs. Mary L. Haight, Misses Emma Caddy, Alice Leahy, Elizabeth Anderson, Kate Bredemeyer, Gilmour; Messrs. Heuser, R. Anderson, E. A. Hodgson.

The second of April saw Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McMann off to Chicago from the Penn. Station, where a stay of a few days are to be made, putting up at the La Salle Hotel. A number of friends witnessed their departure.

On Thursday, Mrs. McMann will be given over to the tender mercies of those in charge of the train on the A. Topeka, and Santa Fe Railroad, and which care is not to be relinquished until the train rolls into the station at Los Angeles, where she will be delivered over to her mother, with whom she is to spend the entire summer.

Mr. McMann returns to New York by easy stages, stopping en route at Detroit, Buffalo, and Lake George, where he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pfeiffer at their cottage, which they will open in a few days.

A few days ago a surprise party was "inflicted" upon her under the direction of Miss S. Howard following a tea, given by Mrs. Pfeiffer, which she attended. All in all, it was a good send-off that Mrs. McMann got, in which dinners and calls from friends bidding her "Good-bye" and leaving presents formed no small part.

Mr. McMann will join his wife in June when his son's school closes.

Gussie Piser passed away at the Flushing Hospital Sunday, March 27th, after a short illness. The family of F. M. Nemeth, of Corona, L. I., were with her when she died. The funeral was in Brooklyn on the following Wednesday. Miss Piser was a pupil of the 67th School about twenty years ago. She met with an accident to her hip a few years ago, and was treated at the hospital which subsequently employed her for the past eight years. She proved to be so excellent employee that the authorities increased her compensation from time to time and were anxious to keep her. Wealthy patients took a fancy to her and offered her a position in their homes, but she declined every one of them. In spite of her own ailment at times, she was always cheerful and light hearted.

Mrs. Jessie Rosenzweig gave a delightful kaffeklatch in honor of her mother, Mrs. Annie Seelig, on the second. The latter has the distinction of being a great grandmother, although one would find it hard to believe on account of her youthful spirits. Among those present besides Mrs. Seelig were her daughters, Mrs. Olsen and Rosenzweig, and a hearing friend, Mrs. Barnes, Bachrach, Branson, Goldberg, Hirsch, Kohn, Loew, Moses, Rosebaum, Wolff, and last but not least, petite Miss Bessie Fink. Mrs. Bryan, Mitchell, Schuyler and Mrs. A. Cohn, sent regrets on account of previous engagements.

Dennis Costello, of Rome, N. Y., spent a week seeing the sights in New York as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leff. Last week he visited Fanwood, accompanied by Mrs. Solomon (nee Lucile Leff).

AID FOR HUNGARY

At the request of the Allied Hungarian Deaf-Mutes Societies, through their President, Armin Breuer, to relieve the condition of such brethren caused by the unheard of high cost of living and by the long continued idleness, Mr. Moriz Schoenfeld, 2027 7th Ave., City, has inaugurated a collection, and had already sent 6000 Kronen through the bank firm of Von Polenz & Co, 60 Broadway.

The names of the kind-hearted donors will be published in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.

The coming donations will be thankfully received and be sent immediately mailed to Buda Pesth by M. Schoenfeld, 2027-7 Ave., New York.

OHIO.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 993 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.]

April 2, 1921—The Girls' Recreation Hall was a scene of gaiety, beauty, and enjoyment last Saturday evening. And it was all for a noble cause—Charity—given for three little French fatherless children across the sea, left so by War's cruel fate.

The entertainment, a social and sale, was given under the auspices of the S. S. C. Girls, or rather Miss Ethel Zell's girls, for she was the organizer of the Society, and is their prompter in all seasons and affairs. Several years ago she was instrumental in having the girls adopt a fatherless girl and boy, and later another child was added. They contribute about seventy dollars a year for each child, and by contributions and entertainments raise the necessary funds. That is certainly a worthy doing. Last year they raised near one hundred fifty dollars, while the affair of last Saturday will probably go above the two hundred dollars mark.

But to get back to the entertainment itself.

When one entered the hall, he found it bedecked with green and yellow Easter decorations, but more lovely than all were the smiles and cheery greetings bestowed upon the visitors by the young ladies clothed in their best, and wearing beicolored crepe-paper caps. They had made a large number of the latter, which they sold to the boys, who of course, delighted to wear them, thus adding to the decorations of the evening. Corsage bouquets of French organdy beauties they were, and made by Miss Bliss, found a ready sale and were much prized.

There was fancy dancing part of the evening, and an egg football game was kept a going most of the evening, and caused much merriment to the spectators. The game was played on a table and the kicking done by blowing the egg to the goals.

The young ladies who presided over the two candy booths were kept busy from opening to the close handing out the sweets. The home-made variety, made by the girls themselves during the week, with the assistance of Miss Hoover, the domestic science teacher, and with donations of the same make from others, was of the choicest kind.

Ice cream and cake and soft drinks were on sale during the time of the entertainment, also colored eggs—eighteen dozen. The S. S. C. girls greatly appreciate the assistance given them and thank the following: Messdames Zell, Miller Chapman, Misses Brunning, Greener and Schumacher, for donations of money.

Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. Wark, Mrs. Clum, Mrs. Elsey and Miss Toskey, for home made cakes. Mr. Showalter auctioned off the cakes, and two dollars and fifty cents was received for one. The others also sold well.

Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Marquis, Mrs. Beekert, Mrs. Ohlemacher and Misses King, Kraus, Swisher and Uhl, for home made candy. Mr. J. B. Showalter, for a large basket of Easter candy.

Miss Bigam, Mrs. Chapman, Mr. Mayer, Mr. Zoru, Mr. Neutzling, Mr. Schwarz, Miss McGregor, Mrs. Callison and Miss Edgar, for fresh eggs. Mrs. Chapman contributed five dozen.

Miss Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Beekert, Mr. Brown, Mr. Showalter, Mr. Zell, Mrs. Callison, and the trustees of the club, Miss Zell, Mr. Ohl-macher and all, for assistance given.

Mrs. Ella J. McCormick, eldest daughter of Mr. W. H. H. Grigsby, while en route from Cleveland to this city last Friday, was stricken with indigestion on the train. She was removed to Prospect, the old home place of her parents, where she died a few hours later. She intended to visit her brother, Mr. Wm. H. Grigsby, at Grandview.

The funeral services were held in the Schoedinger Chapel Monday afternoon. Her father, four brothers and two sisters, survive her.

Mrs. Edie Green, of Toledo, after a year or more of suffering and confinement, and at times her life de-spared of, is now again in full enjoyment of health, and able to do her housework. She attributes her recovery to the inspiration of friends, and particularly to Rev. C. W. Charles, who on a visit to her administered the Holy Communion, and encouraged her to put faith in Christ. Since then she gradually improved, and now can go and attend his meetings, and work in the cause of Christ. She is grateful to him for the good he has done for her.

The joint resolution recently introduced in the State Legislature for the appointment of a committee of three from the Senate and three from the House, to consider the question of a new site for the school, passed both branches last week, and on Tuesday last the committee consulted with Superintendent Jones on the matter. The committee is to report its conclusions at this session of the Legislature. Only half of the Legislature is in session, the House having taken a recess till the 18th inst., to allow the Senate to catch up with its work, so we will have to wait until the latter part of the month for its report.

The teachers were excused from attendance at the School Easter Sunday, by Superintendent Jones—he conducting Sunday School in the morning and service in the afternoon—the latter happened to be his turn. Quite a member of the non-resident teachers spent the week end at their homes.

Miss Greener was in Toledo on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Sherman. Mr. Sherman has been transferred by the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., to Grand Rapids, Michigan, as maintenance of way superintendent, and as soon as a house can be secured the family will move there. The trouble up there is no houses are "for rent."

Miss Greener, while in Toledo, visited the Day School for Deaf, and on Saturday evening attended the Ladies' Aid Society Social, which was being held in Kapps Hall, and had the pleasure of meeting former pupils of the school here. The gathering was a nice one socially, and the members considered it would be a success financially. The proceeds go to the Men's building at the Home.

Treasurer Charles reports the amount received for the fund on March 30th, 1921, $32,332.59.

Mr. Walter A. Zelah, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Miss Jean A. Snediker, of Lisbon, were married last week at the home of Rev. G. W. Beaver, pastor of St. Jacob's Reformed Church, near Lisbon. The bride received her education at the School here, and the groom at the Western Pennsylvania School. Their future home is Pittsburgh.

Eastern Iowa.

The following is taken from the Davenport (Ia.) Democrat, of December 24th last:—

MAQUOKETA, IA., Dec. 24.—The Milwaukee road has another fatal accident charged up against it. This time at Preston, Tuesday, when Herbert B. Bryant of that place was instantly killed while crossing the tracks at Mitchell Street.

Bryant, who is 67 years old, was deaf and dumb, and it seems he was looking in another direction at a bunch of cattle that were being driven along the street. The train from the west struck him and knocked him about 20 feet before he struck the ground and then he slid about 25 feet farther. His face was cut in several places, his neck was broken, his entire side caved in and his right leg broken, death being instantaneous. The funeral will be held at the residence Sunday afternoon with interment in the Miles Cemetery.

Mr. Bryant attended the Iowa School for the Deaf, at Iowa City, Ia., before it was removed to Council Bluffs, Ia.

Mrs. O. T. Osterberg and two sons visited over Thanksgiving week with friends in Kewanee, Ill.

George Vance, of Kewanee, Wis., visited with his home folks at Kewanee, Ill., over Thanksgiving week. He has a good position at the Simmons Bed Factory.

The house where A. A. Kleinfeldt had a furnished room, was partly on fire, and Mr. Kleinfeldt lost nearly all its contents by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Iva Ricketts visited with the former's parents at Springfield, Iowa, during December, while he was laid off from work. They had a nice visit, and he expects to work again very soon in the Wheel Works in Davenport, Iowa.

Chyton Miller, of Tiskilwa, Illinois, was in Davenport, Ia., last month, looking for a job. Failing in getting a job, he went back to his home.

Miss Helen Van Camp and Mr. William Loughran were married last October. Mr. Loughran has an excellent and steady position in the Purity Oats Company in Davenport, Ia.

More than three-quarters of the employees have been laid off except the French & Hecht Wheel Works Company since last November. All muties were laid off except O. T. Osterberg.

Virgil F., the 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Willy, knocked against an automobile while coasting and died three days later, January 20th. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The pall bearers were of his playmates.

The Davenport Division, No. 59, held its regular meeting last December and elected new officers for 1921 as follows: Ira Ricketts, President, of Rock Island; Chas. W. Sharrar, Vice-President; Arthur Heritage, of Rock Island, Ill.; Secretary; Bertel Jennisch, of Rock Island, Ill.; Treasurer; O. T. Osterberg, Director; Chas. Nickell, of Rock Island, Ill.; Sergeant-at-Arms. The Davenport Division, No. 59, gave their fourth annual banquet at the Forest Park inn, on the 4th of December last. It was a good success. Those present from outside were Messrs. Hugh Courter and Clyde Hazlet, of Des Moines, Iowa, Elma Jess, of Andover, Iowa, Peter Foster, of Galesburg, Illinois, Earl

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The fair weather on Easter Day brought out the deaf people in large numbers, and All Souls' Church for the Deaf received its usual good share of them. As Rev. Mr. Dantzer gave a service at the Home in the morning, there was only one service in the Church at the regular afternoon time—three o'clock. The Holy Communion was celebrated, over one hundred persons receiving it, and Pastor Dantzer preached the sermon, which was appropriate to the day. The offering, as previously announced, was for the Coal Fund.

The Gallaudet Club held its regular quarterly meeting at All Souls' Parish House on Saturday evening, March 26th. After disposing of its routine business, the annual election of officers was held with the following results: President, Geo. T. Sanders; Vice President, Charles M. Pennell; and Secretary-Treasurer, Harry E. Stevens. The following new members were admitted, Messrs. William E. Grime, D. Ellis Lit, Louis C. Lovett, Harry F. Smith, John McIntosh, Harry Suckle and Barnet J. Ginley. The next meeting of the Club is due in June.

On Easter Monday evening Mrs. Nancy Moore and Mrs. Syle tendered a reception to their guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Sutton and Mrs. B. B. Baillie, of Simcoe, Ontario, Canada, who are at present visiting in the United States, at 188 Maplewood Avenue, Germantown.

Miss Irene Syle was also in the receiving line. Dainty refreshments were served to the guests in relays in the dining room, and altogether a very pleasant and enjoyable evening was passed. Besides the above named persons the following guests were present:—

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Rodgers, Daniel Paul, George T. Sanders, Albert C. Buxton, Thomas Breen, Elmer E. Scott, Irby H. Marchman, Charles H. Paxton, Robert C. Wall, James W. Cail, Robert MacNeill, James S. Reider, Mesdames Cabel Wilson, Dorothy S. Kriebel, C. O. Dantzer, A. S. McGhee, Charles Parlington, Ross V. Mohr, Bessie McKee; Misses Edith Z. Dunner, Helen R. Nickel, Mamie I. Hess, Margaret Sanders, Deborah Marshall, of Port Chester, N. Y., Isabella Long, Mildred McCready, Lillian Leaming, E. May Trend; and Messrs. John A. Roach, D. Ellis Lit, John Dunner and William Rotheman.

Mrs. Georgia Higgins, widow of the late Michael Higgins, who was sexton of the old All Souls' Church for the Deaf on Franklin Street, near Green, died in the General Hospital on Saturday, March 26th. She was nearly seventy-nine years of age.

Suffering from a stroke of partial paralysis for a long while, her sufferings were increased when a few weeks ago she fell off her bed onto the floor and dislocated or fractured a hip, which caused her removal to the Hospital. Her condition after this became of an extremely distressing and painful nature, so that death was indeed a great relief to her. Three or four grown up children survive her.

Her funeral took place on Tuesday, March 29th, from All Souls' Church for the Deaf, the Pastor, Rev. C. O. Dantzer, officiating. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Washington Houston, Charles H. Sharrar, William McKinney, George T. Sanders, William C. Shephard, and a grandson of the deceased. Interment was in the Old Fellows' Cemetery.

Miss Margaret Sanders, of Washington, D. C., spent the Easter holidays under the parental roof.

Miss Deborah Marshall, of Port Chester, N. Y., spent the past week with friends here. She has frequently been to Philadelphia and has many friends here who were delighted to see her again.

Mrs. Wm. L. Salter returned from Leipsic, Delaware, where she had gone to attend her sick father, on March 26th. Her father had recovered sufficiently to allow her to return home.

Recently the Superior Court of Pennsylvania reversed the divorce case of Hagy vs. Hagy at the cost of the libelant. This is a victory for Mrs. Nettie Hagy.

Joseph Mayer was the winner of a recent bowling contest at the Quattrete Club on Germantown Avenue. The prize was a handsome inlaid serving tray. Mr. Mayer is one of the best bowlers among the deaf here.

Mrs. J. W. Cail has recovered from an attack of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Campbell spent three days visiting friends in Lancaster during Holy Week. Soon after their return, Mrs. Campbell left for Newark, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Otto, of Altoona, Pa., are visiting Philadelphia again. They are shopping with Mr. and Mrs. Warrington.

The Frats will have their Fishing Party at the Grand Fraternity, 1626 Arch Street, next Saturday evening, April 9th. Admission will be ten cents. Come and spend a good time with us.

Weichman and Julius Hertel, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Robert Clarkson, U. Wymer, Geo. Stotts and Leonard Watson, of Muscatine, Ed. D. Webb and son Arthur, of Monmouth, Illinois, and three others, of Canton, Illinois. Weichman and Hertel were the only ones who came by auto.

Fred, ten years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Osterberg, was shot, February 8th last, by a boy companion, 12 years old, by accident. Fred had the bullet wound just above the knee. He was taken to Mercy Hospital, where it was found not serious. On February 20th he was brought home, and started to school the next week. The bullet was recovered, and will be kept as a relic.

A boy was born March 3d to Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts, of 1227 Sixth Ave., Rock Island, Ill. The mother and baby are getting along fine. Congratulations.

A box social was given by the Davenport Division, No. 59, on the 19th of March. Short talks were first given by Messrs. Nelson, Osterberg, Willy and Jennisch and Miss Cannon. Then the boxes were auctioned to the highest bidder. All enjoyed the evening.

Mrs. O. T. Osterberg and two boys left Friday night, March 24th, for El Reno, Oklahoma, to visit with her parents and relatives for several months. Her parents' Golden Wedding Anniversary will be on the 13th of next April.

While visiting in Ottumwa, Ia., some time ago, he met some muties there.

Ralph Sheets works in the Morrell Packing house as a hamboner. He owns a nice home and has two nice hearing children.

Joseph Hawkins works there too, as a meat-inspector, at good wages.

C. C. Callahan works there as a keeper or overseer of a cold storage room.

O. L. Eslinger works in the canning department, which he has held for about twenty-five years.

Andrew Horinan, formerly of Batavia, but now of Ottumwa, Ia., works in the Morey Product Co., at Ottumwa, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kenzy and children, of Fairfield, Ia., have moved to Pasadena, Cal., where they probably will stay for life.

Albert August works at the Turner Wagon Factory at Fairfield, Ia., where he has been for many years as a painter and trimmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walgren, of Lockridge

"THE DEAF: THEIR POSITION IN SOCIETY AND THE PROVISION FOR THEIR EDUCATION IN THE UNITED STATES."

BY DR. HARRY BEST.

This is a book that every deaf person in the United States should possess.

Written after years of study and research.

Written by one who has taught the deaf many years, and knows them well.

A strictly scientific work, but written largely in the interests of the deaf.

Perhaps the most important work on the subject ever published.

Today the great standard work on the subject, in libraries, universities, editorial offices, and elsewhere, both in the United States and Europe.

"A scientific work of great interest."—New York Times.

"A scholarly work."—American Review of Reviews.

"Written with the greatest care and thoroughness."—The Dial.

"A wealth of statistics."—American Journal of Medical Sciences.

"A very interesting work."—Physical Culture.

"Most complete manual on subject."—Catholic World.

"Admirable. Written with great patience and skill."—Brooklyn Eagle.

"Fuller compendium about deaf-mutes yet published."—American Library Association Book-list

"Most important effort so far on subject."—Chicago Evening Post.
